Oceana Group Limited Internship Programme 2026/2027 For Graduates

Description

Oceana Group Limited, a global leader in the fishing industry, is seeking enthusiastic and talented interns to support its mission of positively impacting lives. As one of the top 20 seafood companies in the world by market capitalization, Oceana is involved in the catching, processing, marketing, and distribution of a diverse range of products, including canned fish, fishmeal, fish oil, lobster, horse mackerel, squid, and hake.

The Oceana Group Internship Programme offers a 12-month opportunity for recent graduates to gain practical experience in various departments within the organization. Interns will play a vital role in contributing to the company's operations while developing their professional skills in a supportive environment.

This internship program is designed for individuals who have recently completed their qualifications in fields relevant to the company's operations. Interns will be immersed in the company's culture and operations, allowing them to gain firsthand insights into the fishing industry while making meaningful contributions to the organization.

Responsibilities

Interns will be expected to:

- Assist in various tasks and projects within designated departments, including Commerce, IT/Information Systems, Human Resources, Safety, Health and Environment (SHE), Compliance, and Administration.
- Contribute to data collection, analysis, and reporting processes to support decision-making.
- Work collaboratively with team members on projects and initiatives, sharing ideas and contributing to discussions.
- Perform administrative tasks as required to facilitate smooth operations within the department.
- Engage in training and development activities to enhance skills and knowledge relevant to the industry.

Qualifications

To be eligible for the Oceana Group Internship Programme, candidates must meet the following criteria:

- Residence in Cape Town or the West Coast region of Cape Town.
- Graduation in the years 2022, 2023, or 2024.
- A completed qualification in one of the following fields: Commerce, IT/Information Systems, Human Resources, Safety, Health and Environment (SHE), Compliance, or Administration.
